

Sharron Begg
Field Corn, 24" x 44" (hand-painted cotton and threads, machine stitched)
 The beauty of nature along Guelph/Nichol Town Line.

Penny Berens
Through the Trees, 17" x 20"
 (dyed and stitched textile)
 Reflections on the woodland and streams around my Nova Scotian home.

Gordana Brelih
Give Me a Chance
 30" circumference by 72"
 (machine and hand stitched felt)
 Inspired by a friend whose life fell apart, but who is no longer alone.

Martha Cole
Winter Wheat 29" x 53"
 (digital image, handmade felt, reverse appliqué)
 In witness to nature's own sense of aesthetics.

Dianne Gibson
Deep in the Dark Woods, Between the Realms
 23" x 36" (heat distressed silk collage)

Exploring heavily textured surfaces and non-traditional textile techniques.

Helen Hughes
Simply Complex, diptych, 22" x 27" each side
 (silk & cotton fabrics, machine appliquéd and embroidered)
 Life with its cycles and intricacies is simply complex.

Linda Janzen
Channeling the Silk Road #1 and #2, diptych, 19" x 23" each side
 (waxed silk collage)
 Translucent beeswax encases rusted antique silk to evoke an Asian trek for treasures.

Chris Kummer
Common Thread of Humanity, each 23" tall x 6"
 (mixed media collage)
 We are all related by a rhythmic thread woven through humanity.

Elizabeth Duggan Litch
A Star for Galileo 60" x 52" (mixed media)
 Celebrating The International Year of Astronomy and Galileo's 400th anniversary.

Anne Luxton
Leaps of Faith 44" x 31" (hand painted, appliquéd, hand stitched)
 Man and nature, sharing a common destiny as creatures of the river.

Johnnene Maddison
Approaching Autumn
 27" X 38" (watercolour image transfer, machine quilted)

Expressing my concern for planting and preserving trees.

Eileen Neill
Ginkgo - the Living Fossil
 25 x 39 (layered sheer fabric, machine stitched)
 Essentially unchanged from the Jurassic period until the present.

Susan Martin
Tidal Pool 19.5 x 31
 (painted and dyed fabric, machine stitched)

Sea stars - clinging to life at the edge of the sea.